Compretta promoted

State Representative J. P. Compretta of Hancock County has been named vice chairman of the Conservation and Water Resources Committee of the Mississippi House of Representatives. Compretta, a member of the House since 1976 and a member of the conservation committee, moves up to the vice chairmanship replacing Rep. Dick Hall of Jackson who has been named chairman of the committee.

House Speaker C. B. Newman said Hall replaces former committee chairman W. A. Wilkerson of George County who has resigned from the House to accept a position on the State Tax Commission.

Faith Assembly of God, Hwys. 43 and 603 in The Gulf, is hosting an appearance by Pam Paxton of Mudasa International Evangelistic Association of Nashville, Tenn. and a WWII Holocaust survivor at 7 p.m. Sunday. She is the only woman survivor of the Bataan Death March.

INVESTIGATES DROWNINGS—Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson, back to camera, with James Burchell, co-owner of Tawiki Park where two persons drowned July 4th in separate incidents. Those visiting the park included from left, Ed Friloux, Hancock County Sheriff's Department Arson Investigator, and Carl Banderet, Hancock County Sheriff's Department Arson Investigator.

Drownings mar July 4th

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Two persons drowned in unrelated incidents on July 4th at the Tawiki Park off Highway 607 North of the National Space Technology Laboratories.

The water park is several miles past the Turtle Skin Cemetery and is located at an old gravel and sand pit, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Peterson said, "We received a call at 1:30 p.m. Sunday reporting a drowning. Upon reaching the park we found that J.C. Bullock, 36, of Picayune had been swimming with his niece aged 13 years when he disappeared under the water. The girl notified relatives picnicking nearby who searched for the body for about an hour before finding the victim."

"The sheriff's office was not notified of the incident until over an hour after it happened," Peterson added.

Hancock County Coroner Carl Banderet held an inquest and ruled death due to accidental drowning, the sheriff said.

"Four hours later, at 5:30 p.m. the sheriff's office received a call about the possibility of two more drownings. Deputies arriving at the park learned that two persons were taken by NSTL Ambulance to the Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picayune," Peterson continued.

Lola Goff, 41, also of Picayune, was treated and released in a satisfactory condition, and Hampton Magee 44, was placed in the Intensive Care Unit and died early Monday morning, the sheriff said.

James Burchell, of Covington, La., co-owner of the park, said persons using the facility are urged to use extreme care and that a lifeguard was on duty when the first incident happened.

"This is the first time anything has happened since we opened the park six years ago. The accidents occurred at opposite ends of the lake. The second incident happened right after the life guard left for the day."

Water in the lake is estimated up to 15 feet deep. An admission of $1 for adults and .50 is charged by the owners for use of the park which has picnic tables and restroom facilities.

"We close at 7 p.m. each day and are open from Easter Sunday through the week after Labor Day," Burchell added.

Later this week Burchell reportedly said he would add an additional lifeguard on weekends.

Escapee sought after Hancock Jail break

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Local law enforcement agencies are coordinating efforts to apprehend one of two Hancock County Jail inmates who escaped early Monday afternoon from the Bay St. Louis facility.

Sheriff Ronald Peterson of the Hancock Sheriff's Department Wednesday reported Steve Sylvester, 19, who was being held in jail on burglary charges, is still at large.

"We feel Sylvester is still in this area. In fact, Bay St. Louis Police Department officers spotted him last night and they gave chase on foot, but the fugitive managed to elude them," the sheriff said.

Supervisors unveil new Hancock district lines

By BRENT MACEY
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors Tuesday approved advertising newly proposed redistricting lines for the county.

A public hearing to discuss the proposal is set for Aug. 13, at 10 p.m. in the courthouse.

Jeff Taylor, a planner with Gulf Regional Planning and Development of Gulfport who helped formulate the new district lines, noted copies of the proposed redistricting lines have been posted in the Hancock courthouse, Bay St. Louis and Waveland City Halls.

Maps of the newly proposed lines are also included in today's edition of The Sea Coast Echo.

After the public hearing has been conducted, the board must submit its final redistricting plan to the United States

Justice Department for its approval.

The supervisors expect to have that department's approval before the next supervisor election in 1984.

Federal law requires redistricting when population counts become imbalanced by a margin of seven percent above or below an average population figure established for each beat.

The 1980 census figures prepared by Gulf Regional Planning show District Five has increased in population so that it is now 20 percent above the average mean population.

Beat One shows it is 11 percent below current averages.

The new redistricting proposal will bring district populations closer in line.

The new plan shows Beat Four with the greatest population of 5,072. That beat is 3.5 percent above the average mean.

Beat Two shows the lowest population with 4,702 or four percent below the average.

Maps of the plan show several major changes in the districts.

Beat Two will lose authority over a coastal area in Waveland and will not represent any area of the coast.

Beat One will pick up the area on the coast lost by Beat Two.

However, Beat One will lose Pearl- ington representation and that community will be represented by Beat Two.

Beat Three will gain a large portion of Diamondhead East which was formerly represented by Beat Five.

Trailers, propane stoves involved in all Hancock home fire deaths this year

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Three Hancock County residents have died this year in fires which have all resulted from propane stove blazes in trailers.

Ed Friloux, of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Arson Investigation Squad Wednesday confirmed that information and noted the latest fire-related death occurred early Tuesday morning in BaySide Park.

Sidney Martin, 60, of Hancock Drive in the subdivision died in a fire which destroyed a small trailer utilized as a residence, Friloux said.

The investigator reported the BaySide and Clermont Harbor Volunteer Fire Departments, the arson squad and County Coroner Carl Banderet responded to the fire which was reported at about 2 a.m.

Friloux noted Martin's body was found near the door of the residence.

A leaking propane stove caused the blaze, the investigator reported.

He said Martin was a retired Air Force staff sergeant.

Friloux noted all of Hancock's fire fatalities have resulted from propane stove fires in trailers.

He cited the recent death of a man at the Bayou LaCroix Marina and child in Pearl- ington as the other two fire deaths in the county.

PEARLINGTON ARSON
Friloux reported arson as cause of a Pearl- ington fire which recently destroyed an unoccupied trailer located on the north side of US-90 just east of the Hwy. 604 intersection.

The trailer owned by Guy Waite of Natchez burned in the fire reported by neighbors at about 10 p.m. June 3, the investigator said.

Traces of petroleum were found in the burned trailer by an electronic petrochemical sniffer utilized by the squad to detect such materials used to set fires, Friloux explained.

"This was definitely an incendiary fire and is under investigation by the arson squad. We have a number of leads about the perpetrator of this crime," he stated.

He noted the state offers up to a $1,000 reward to persons providing information leading to the arrest and conviction of an arsonist.

Friloux said when two units of the Savings probable with tax department consolidation

By BRENT MACEY
A feasibility study concerning the possibility of combining the Bay St. Louis and the Hancock County Tax Department was presented to the Bay Council Tuesday by City Clerk Eddie Favre.

No action was taken by the council and the study was only accepted into the council minutes.

Favre had been requested by Councilman Eugene Taylor to undertake the study at a previous meeting.

In the report presented Tuesday, Favre examined four possible methods of combining the departments.

Possible savings, depending on how the departments were combined, range from $3,950 to $41,490 annually, the report shows.

Of the four possible methods considered for combining the departments, two concerned the possibility of keeping one full time employee in the city tax department. The other two methods viewed abolishing the city tax department completely.

State statutes regarding legal methods of combining were also included in the study.

Following the meeting, Taylor noted the possible $41,490 savings and stated the amount of money allocated to the street department—some $14,000 for asphalt and shells annually—could be tripled if the tax departments were combined.

Mayor Larry Bennett has been opposed to combining the departments since the study was first considered.

When questioned recently about the city considering combining the city tax department with the county, Bennett responded, "We don't have a sanitary collection system (garbage). That's been let out. The grass cutting has been let out. Now the council wants to do away with the tax department and possibly sell the utility system (gas). This is all part of the city and if they don't want to be bothered with the everyday problems of running the city then why do they seek public office?"

In other business at the meeting, the council voted unanimously to select Councilman Harry Favre as Council President and Taylor as Vice President.

Also at the meeting, the council

Sheriff counters comments by White Cypress resident

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson Monday refuted a White Cypress resident's comments regarding a robbery of a Michigan Secretary of State branch office in Birmingham.

Perry was released Friday after paying a $10,000 bond.

The resident, who refused to give his name, alleged that Peterson had been involved in the robbery of the Michigan Secretary of State branch office in Birmingham.

Peterson said he had no involvement in the robbery and that the resident's comments were unfounded.

Peterson said he had been in the area of the robbery at the time it occurred, but he was not involved in the robbery.

Perry on the warrant or continue the investigation on Perry's activities in the county which then involved our department and customs. We decided to continue our investigation for a few more days," he explained.

The sheriff said he contacted Detective Sgt. Richard Gault of the Michigan State Police, who is in Pontiac, who verified the state's warrant against Perry as "wanted in connection with the robbery."

Conversations with Gault and Michigan County Sheriff's Office Perry was contacted and was advised that he was wanted in connection with the robbery.

"We have no intention of releasing Perry," he said.

S&LA's redeem food stamps

Insured savings and loan institutions are now allowed to redeem food stamps from authorized retailers and wholesalers in the same manner as banks have in the past, according to Ms. Cherie Morris.

Ms. Morris said the provision was authorized by a amendment to the Food Stamp Act and is effective immediately. Prior to the amendment, only banks were permitted to redeem food stamps from authorized retailers and wholesalers.

She added that the amendment requires that financial institutions accepting food stamps for redemption must be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC).

For more information on the new provision, Ms. Morris suggested calling the nearest Food and Nutrition Service field office or the Southeast regional office at 1100 Spring St., N.W., Atlanta, Ga., 30367. Telephone (404) 881-2890.

ETV Brief

BEST FIDDLER

George Jones takes the stage on "Austin City Limits" at 8 p.m., Saturday, July 10, on the Mississippi ETV Network. The program was first seen on "Austin City Limits" last year. It will be rebroadcast at 2 p.m., Tuesday, July 13.

Jones is joined by his band, the Jones Boys, as well as by fiddler Johnny Gimble and Hank Williams.

Jones performs a lively rendition of "Jambalaya," "White Lightning," "Bartender's Blues," "Picture Me without You," "Once You've Had the Best," "Some Day My Day Will Come" and "He Stopped Loving Her Today."

Gimble is introduced by Jones as "the best fiddler in the whole world." He performs "Ida Red," "Take Me Back to Tulsa," "Milk Cow Blues" and "Maiden's Prayer."

Country music Hall of Fame member Hank Thompson also appears on the program. One of the original honky-tonkers, Thompson performs one of his most famous hits, "The Wild Side of Life," as well as "Hey, Mr. Bartender."

Dogs to aid deaf demonstrated at USM

A representative of International Hearing Dog, Inc. recently visited the University of Southern Mississippi campus to demonstrate the effectiveness of dogs which are trained to assist deaf people.

Judy King, a speech pathologist at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff for nine months of the year and a trainer of dogs to assist the deaf in the summer months, talked to students and faculty members of the USM Department of Speech and Hearing Science and deaf citizens about the hearing dog program.

Accompanying Mrs. King was Mrs. Maurice Johnson from Laurel. Mrs. Johnson is the second Mississippian to receive a hearing dog.

The Hearing Dog organization is based in Henderson, Colo. There the dogs are selected from local animal shelters to provide a lifetime service for the deaf.

Mrs. Johnson received her dog, Hans, free as a result of fund raisers held by the Prentiss Lions Club and the Jefferson Davis Chamber of Commerce.

The dogs cost $2,800 each to train and maintain before they are placed with a deaf person.

The dogs are trained to alert the deaf to smoke alarms, a baby crying, a door knocking, an alarm clock, unfamiliar sounds indicating danger and other sounds which are taken for granted by the hearing.

Mrs. King said that the Hearing Dog organization has placed 360 animals with deaf individuals since 1975. She and her demonstration dog, K.C., travel across the U.S. with animals to be given to the deaf.

"It takes four to five days for the dogs to be acclimated with their new owners," she said. "I thought, at first, that the dogs I train would never leave me, but as soon as their new owners start to feed, love and take care of them they adjust quickly."

"We urge individuals, civic organizations, church groups or any other philanthropic organization to contact us at International Hearing Dog, Inc., 5901 East 89th Ave., Henderson, Colorado, 80640," she concluded.

Bits 'n pieces

It sounded like the 'old days' Monday afternoon with the gunshots fired at fleeing prisoners from the Hancock County jail. Several of our employees were complaining about the lack of activity downtown Monday because most of the governmental agencies were closed as well as businesses.

Things came to life in a hurry when the two prisoners escaped. It wasn't too long before sheriff's deputies, Bay St. Louis and Waveland Police were combing the area for the escapees.

We are glad no one was hurt in the escape, as that could have easily happened.

It is hard to believe the very high fence with barbed wire was so easily scaled.

We hope that one of these days Hancock County will get an up-to-date jail large enough to hold all the prisoners.

There were so many activities going on last Sunday it was hard to keep-up with them all.

We know everyone who witnessed the Annual Blessing of the Fleet at Bayou Cadet really enjoyed themselves.

We were glad to see so many more boats participating this year over last year.

This event could develop into a very big July 4th function in years to come.

We would like to commend the Fishermen's Association members and the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, co-sponsors, for a job well done.

It was a very busy weekend for our local police of the three departments, as they had a lot of visitors in the county.

They had a lot of functions to handle, and all had everyone working.

We feel they did do a fine job in all phases and Sheriff Ronald Peterson, Bay Chief Douglas Williams, and Waveland Chief Donald Dorn should be commended for the performance of their officers.

The officers who patrolled the streets, stood out in the hot sun in directing traffic, all should be thanked for trying to make Hancock County as safe as possible last weekend.

The Mississippi State Highway Patrolmen and the Bureau of Marine Resources officers all had to handle a record amount of highway and water traffic. There are some professions where persons have to work holidays and law enforcement officers seem to have to double-up on the holidays enjoyed by many others.

Home drug accidents can be prevented

Accidental overdose, taking the wrong medicine, and poisoning are tragedies that can occur when medicines are treated carelessly in the home.

When medicine is taken correctly, though, the exact dose is taken at the proper time under conditions that insure against error. Here are a few useful guidelines from the American Medical Association.

Discuss with your physician any medicines prescribed for you. Be sure you understand the amount and frequency of the dose and what side effects you may expect.

Self-treatment with over-the-counter remedies can be effective in some instances. However, using these preparations without medical supervision can also delay correct treatment or even aggravate the condition they were supposed to treat.

Never give a drug prescribed for you to another family member or friend. Never take medicine prescribed for someone else.

Keep only medicines currently in use. Destroy old prescriptions because most drugs lose potency with the passage of time. Some drugs may undergo chemical changes that make them toxic.

Read the label in a good light before opening the bottle or box.

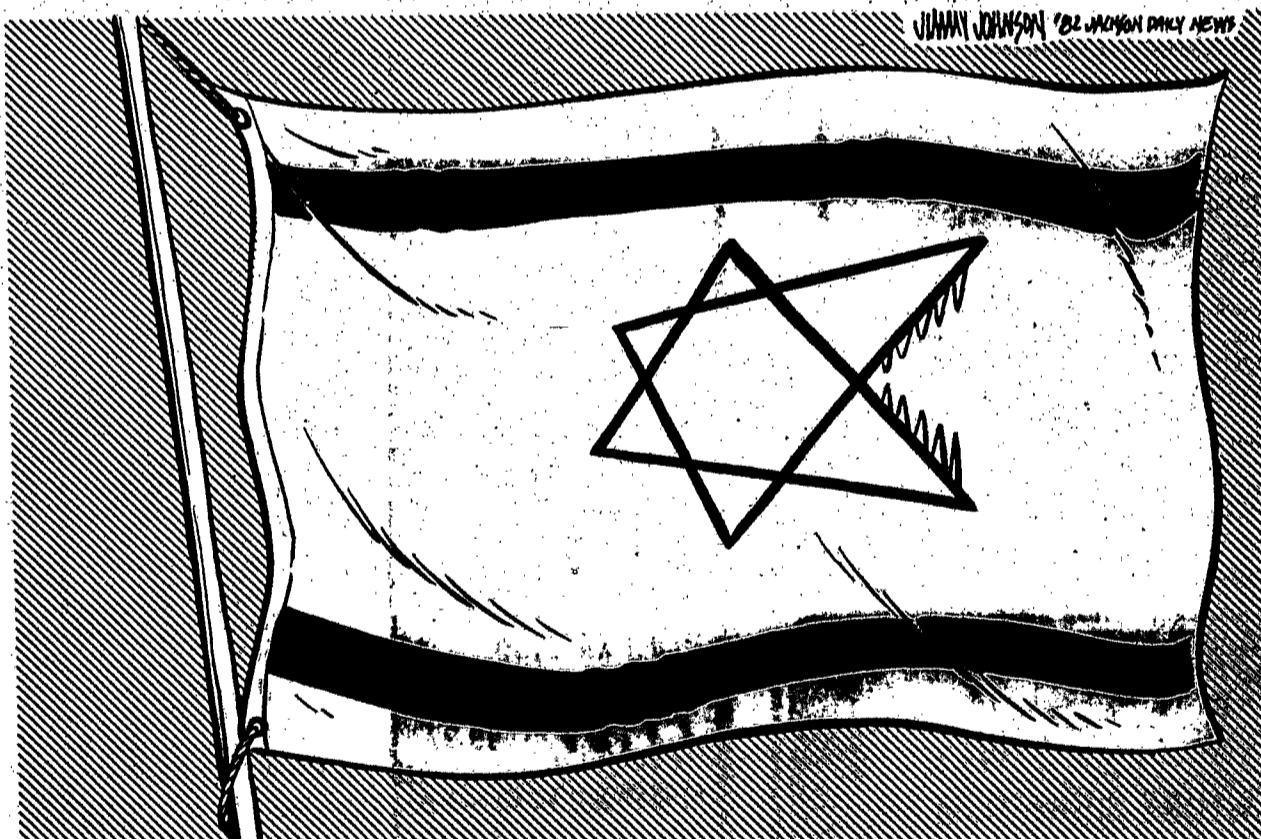

If you have more than one type of medicine to take, be sure one container the other. By doing so, you can avoid confusion and the possibility of accidentally taking more than necessary.

Keep medicines away from the bed. Make it necessary to get up to take them. Placing drugs and medicine by one's bed is dangerous because an overdose may occur if the medication is accidentally repeated while a person is sleepy.

Keep medicines in the original labeled container. If you carry pills in a pocket pill box, identify each variety of pill with a label.

FARMERS ACTIVE—Farmers were active last Saturday at 7 a.m. at opening time of the Hancock County Farmer's Market held at the Fairgrounds. Early risers had the parking area almost filled as they selected an array of fresh homegrown vegetables. CONSUMER REPORT

A Service of the Consumer Protection Division of the Office of Bill Allain, Attorney General, P.O. Box 220, Jackson, MS 39205 (601-354-7130)

"BEWARE OF IMITATION PRODUCTS"

Imitation products seem to be on a rise today states Attorney General Bill Allain. Allain stated that the biggest problem confronting many consumers and businesses alike is that the imitation products so closely resemble the established brand-name that it is difficult for them to distinguish between the two.

These imitators attempt to take advantage of the public by passing low quality inferior merchandise, making the consumer think he or she is getting the authentic brand.

Manufacturers of the imitation goods capitalize on advertisements, packaging, and the reputation of legitimate products.

These unscrupulous businesses design their products so carefully that at a glance the two goods look identical and only the careful consumer can tell the difference. Frequently copied products include cosmetics, jewelry, jeans, pantyhose and cassette tapes.

The imitation product does not always undersell the known brand name good. Often the consumer pays the same price or higher for the imitation goods than he or she would for the established brand-name good.

Imitation also has led to reputational damage because these imitators are not of the same quality as the legitimate products. Consumers of high quality products can be misled by the imitation goods and the consumer has the right to be protected from such practices.

To protect your family and yourself from buying imitation goods, carefully check the packaging and labels of products. Do not buy products from unknown sources. Do not buy products from unknown sources. Do not buy products from unknown sources.

Box 220, Jackson, Miss. 39205.

SIGNING DEEDS OF TRUST

Allain is warning consumers to be careful when signing contracts and other documents for major purchases, before reading the terms carefully through.

According to Allain, homeowners may unknowingly sign deeds of trust against their property, which would allow a lender to take possession of the property.

Allain says that if you have been victimized by this unscrupulous practice you should write the Attorney General, P.O. Box 220, Jackson, Mississippi 39205. (601) 354-7130.

Senator Thad Cochran SPECIAL REPORT

Senator Thad Cochran says he is very pleased that President Reagan has nominated Grady Jolly for the position of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Senator Cochran's comments came after the White House announced the President was sending the Jolly nomination for the federal appeals court to the Senate for confirmation.

Under the Constitution, the Senate must advise and consent to such nominations and Senator Cochran said he would talk with Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Strom Thurmond, Majority Leader Howard Baker and others to secure hearing and confirmation of the Jolly nomination "as soon as possible after the Fourth of July recess."

Senator Cochran recommended Jolly, a Jackson attorney, after Judge J.P. Coleman of Ackerman announced last year he was taking senior status, thus creating a vacancy on the Fifth Circuit appellate court serving Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and the Canal Zone.

"Grady Jolly is eminently qualified, by education, experience and temperament for this high-ranking position. I am very pleased that President Reagan has nominated him, and I hope we can secure this confirmation by the Judiciary Committee and full Senate as soon as possible."

Jolly, 44, is a native of Winston County. He attended the University of Mississippi and achieved an outstanding record in academics and student activities, finishing second in his graduating class at Ole Miss Law School.

He served as a trial attorney for the National Labor Relations Board in Winston-Salem, N.C., as an assistant U.S. attorney for the Northern District of Mississippi in Oxford, and as an attorney in the Tax Division of the Department of Justice in Washington, before entering the private practice of law in Jackson in 1969.

He and his wife Bettye are active in civic, community and charitable organizations there.

U.S. MARSHALL

Cochran also announced he is recommending Dwight G. Williams to be the U.S. Marshall for the Northern District of Mississippi.

Williams, 49, has been serving as the chief deputy marshal in that federal court district, the Senator said in a letter recommending the appointment to President Reagan.

"Dwight Williams is an extremely well-qualified person for this important job," he told the President. "He has served honorably and effectively the past ten years as the Chief Deputy U.S. Marshal for the district."

Prior to that, Williams served as a deputy U.S. Marshal, and as a deputy sheriff in Union County. He also has experience as a farmer and fuel oil products distributor.

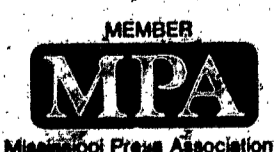

He attended Mississippi State University and served in the United States Air Force. He has been active in church and community work and has been president of the local Kiwanis Club, a Mason and a member of the Mississippi Law Enforcement Association, the Mississippi Farm Bureau, and the Mississippi Cattlemen's Association.

Nomination to the U.S. Marshall post would require Senate confirmation. Senator Cochran pointed out in announcing his recommendation.

A PROCLAMATION
BY THE GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, throughout American history our prisoners of war have been called upon to make uncommon sacrifices; and

WHEREAS, in fulfilling their duty as citizens of the United States, they have defended American ideals while suffering unimaginable indignities under the absolute control of the enemy; and

WHEREAS, they remained steadfast even while their treatment contravened international understandings and violated elementary considerations of compassion and morality; and

WHEREAS, all Americans should recognize the special debt we owe to our fellow citizens, who in the act of serving our nation, relinquished their freedom that we might enjoy the blessing of peace and liberty; and

WHEREAS, we must also remember the unresolved casualties of war, our servicemen who are still missing, whose families, relatives and friends, and all of us, still endure the pain and bitterness of war, and as a nation continue to seek answers to the many questions that remain concerning their fate:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, William F. Winter, Governor of the State of Mississippi, do hereby proclaim July 9, 1982, as in Mississippi as a day dedicated to all former American prisoners of war, to those still missing, and to their families, and urge all Mississippians to join in honoring those who made the uncommon sacrifice of being held captive in war, and to honor as well as their loved ones who have also suffered valiantly and patiently.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Mississippi to be affixed.

DONE at the Capitol in the City of Jackson, the 10th day of May in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the two hundred and sixth.

Junior Police Auxiliary

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Bay St. Louis Police Department has re-organized the Junior Police Auxiliary program, according to Chief Douglas Williams.

Bay St. Louis Patrolman Murray Ladner is advisor to the group of boys and girls sworn-in Tuesday by Mayor Larry Bennett.

A regular meeting of the junior auxiliary police officers will be held Tuesday, July 13 at 7 p.m. in the conference room of Gulf National Bank.

Williams said, "Boys and girls ages 11-16, who qualify are eligible to join this non-profit organization. A junior policeman will have the opportunity to work with city officers, and learn about law enforcement first hand."

"The junior auxiliary police will be used in such areas as ball game traffic control, and other activities, and will also be given training in first aid, as well as other special programs," Williams added.

Ladner, a junior auxiliary officer for seven years with the Gulfport Police, stated, "The boys and girls will not be involved in serious situations. If they are patrolling with a regular officer and he or she is called to handle a serious matter, the junior officer will be left out of the police car at a store where they can call the station to have someone else pick them up."

A total of 20 persons are now members of the force and openings are available for several others, according to Ladner.

Mayor Bennett in swearing-in the youth told them "I am very proud to have you boys and girls interested in law enforcement. Chief Williams and I are going to give full support to this program."

"This will give the young people an opportunity to understand the importance of having and obeying laws by having them involved in law enforcement," Bennett continued.

Williams emphasized, "Because you are junior auxiliary officers, it does not mean to can push yourself around with others, you have to be able control yourself at all times."

The officers of the junior auxiliary police are Blanche Plaisance, chief; Dwayne Ladner, assistant chief; Paul Williams, captain; with Lieutenants Eugene Loisel and Dennis Keeler.

Any parents or youth interested in the new program can contact Chief Williams or Officer Ladner at 467-9221 for further information.

time the investigation or pick up Perry," he said.

Peterson reported that after his office received a packet of information from Michigan authorities, an affidavit was made to arrest Perry since he is considered dangerous by Michigan officials.

The sheriff said he, customs officers, Investigator Alvin Ladner of the department and Mississippi Highway Patrol Senior Investigator T.P. Naylor conducted a search of Perry's home based on information received from an informant and the surveillance.

The sheriff explained senior officers were utilized in the search because of their expertise in such operations.

"During the search we confiscated one bag of marijuana, two citizen band walk-talkies, two battery chargers for the walk-talkies, two marine maps and a yellow underwater camera," he stated.

Regarding Perry's allegation that the searchers ransacked his home, Peterson said, "I would agree with the attorney's report that Perry keeps a neat home, but at no time did we ransack the house or leave it in a disorderly fashion."

Peterson said that while the search was underway, officers from his department were telling Perry as he drove to various places in Bay St. Louis and Waveland and then drove to Stennis International Airport.

"We didn't have any idea if he would get on a plane or not, but we didn't want to give him a chance," the sheriff reported.

The sheriff said after searching the home all the law enforcement officials met at the airport where Perry was arrested based on the Michigan charge and no reason for the marijuana charge.

"We brought Perry to the sheriff's office, gave him a search warrant, and he had a lawyer with him," Peterson said. "He was told he could leave, but he didn't want to."

"The sheriff continued to tell Perry that he could leave, but he didn't want to," Peterson said. "He was told he could leave, but he didn't want to."

Peterson reported Perry was taken to the Bay St. Louis law firm of Cook, Hughes and Sharp with nothing to say.

"We would not be taking any action until we had a search warrant," Peterson said. "We would not be taking any action until we had a search warrant."

amount," Peterson said in response to a report that he was ordered to set a bond for Perry.

Regarding Attorney Henry Cook III's statement that no extradition proceedings have been filed against Perry, the sheriff reported, "I have been in contact with a Michigan district attorney, and the governor's office in that state and Mississippi several times. The Michigan authorities say they will definitely extradite Perry."

"Extradition papers as of last week were in the Michigan governor's office and were en route to Mississippi's governor," the sheriff said.

In reference to a report that extradition proceedings were slowed due to a witness to the crime being in prison, Peterson stated, "The guy in prison has nothing to do with this (the extradition process)."

The sheriff recounted subsequent bond reduction hearings in which Griffin lowered Perry's bond amount eventually to $1,500.

Peterson confirmed that Griffin could not hear Attorney Jane Sharp's final bond reduction request for a $1,000 amount due to schedule conflicts.

"Sharp then went to another judge (Peterson, Circuit Court Judge Leslie Grant) who was not aware of the case and issued a court order reducing bond to $1,500," he stated.

Regarding Cook's report that Grant ordered Peterson not to interfere with Perry's efforts to post bond, the sheriff stated, "I received nothing saying not to interfere. How could I interfere anyway?"

"I had anything to do with the bond, it wouldn't be reduced to $1,500. That's all because we felt like a bond of $1,500 was a bargain charge involving the Secretary of State's office was not a crime."

"I don't think if someone was in Hancock County, they would be in another state, that they would come back to such a low amount of bond."

"If any man is arrested being in custody for several years, he would be in custody for several years, he would be in custody for several years, he would be in custody for several years."

ticket we found back to the original owner of the van.

"We had a problem in our surveillance because everywhere Perry went he drove at least 70-miles-per-hour," the investigator added.

In reference to Cook's report that a prisoner can not be held more than 30 days waiting extradition proceedings, Peterson said, "That's not true about the 30 days. Sometimes this procedure may take longer than that."

"As long as extradition proceedings are underway, we can hold that person unless he posts bond," the sheriff added.

Peterson also revealed that after Perry was arrested, he attempted to smuggle four sapphires into jail inside a glasses case.

"Before bringing Perry's glasses to him, a deputy found the sapphires in the case," the sheriff said.

Peterson noted that by court order all of Perry's personal belongings, except the marijuana, were returned to Cook.

The sheriff added the only court hearing in which Hancock representatives were present was the initial bond hearing because his office was not notified in advance of any subsequent hearings.

In response to Perry and Cook both questioning the fact that the Michigan charge is not listed on a Federal Bureau of Investigation rap sheet, the sheriff explained, "If a man is wanted, this doesn't appear on the rap sheet until after he is arrested. In Perry's case, the information will not appear on FBI records until they receive fingerprints and arrest information we have forwarded."

Regarding allegations by Perry that Hancock inmates are denied medical attention, Peterson said inmates with rabies have received proper medical attention.

George Smith, 23, also escaped Monday, but was apprehended at about midnight that day by Patrolman Oscar Thomas of the Waveland Police Department, Peterson reported.

Smith is charged in the armed robbery and shooting of a double amputee in Waveland.

"Waveland officers and our deputies surrounded an area near the Coleman and Central Avenue intersection in that city where Smith was reportedly seen," the sheriff explained.

"Smith was taken into custody and ordered by Place Two Circuit Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin in Gulfport to be transferred to Harrison County's maximum security prison in Biloxi.

Peterson added that Smith was transferred to the Biloxi prison Tuesday.

He noted Smith escaped previously and was apprehended in Slidell.

The duo escaped at about 1 p.m. when jailer R.D. Ladner opened a second floor cell door to remove a prisoner who was released on bond, Peterson said.

"Because of an overflow of people in jail after the holiday weekend, some misdemeanor offenders were in a cell with felony offenders," he explained.

"When Ladner opened the cell door, one of the two who escaped slammed the door against the jailer, they ran down the stairs and through a hall, scaled a chain-link fence topped with barbed wire and each ran in different directions," Peterson reported.

Department personnel ran after the two and fired warning shots with their service revolvers, but the duo continued to flee on foot.

A Pass Christian Police Department tracking dog was utilized in an attempt to track the fugitives, but dry weather conditions apparently caused the dog to lose the scent.

Officers from local police departments and the State Highway Patrol joined in the search just after the escape.

The law enforcement officials, primarily armed with 12-gauge shotguns, cordoned off several areas of the city just after the escape in an attempt to trap the escapees.

PLANE CRASH

A plane crash in northwestern Hancock injured a Slidell man Saturday night.

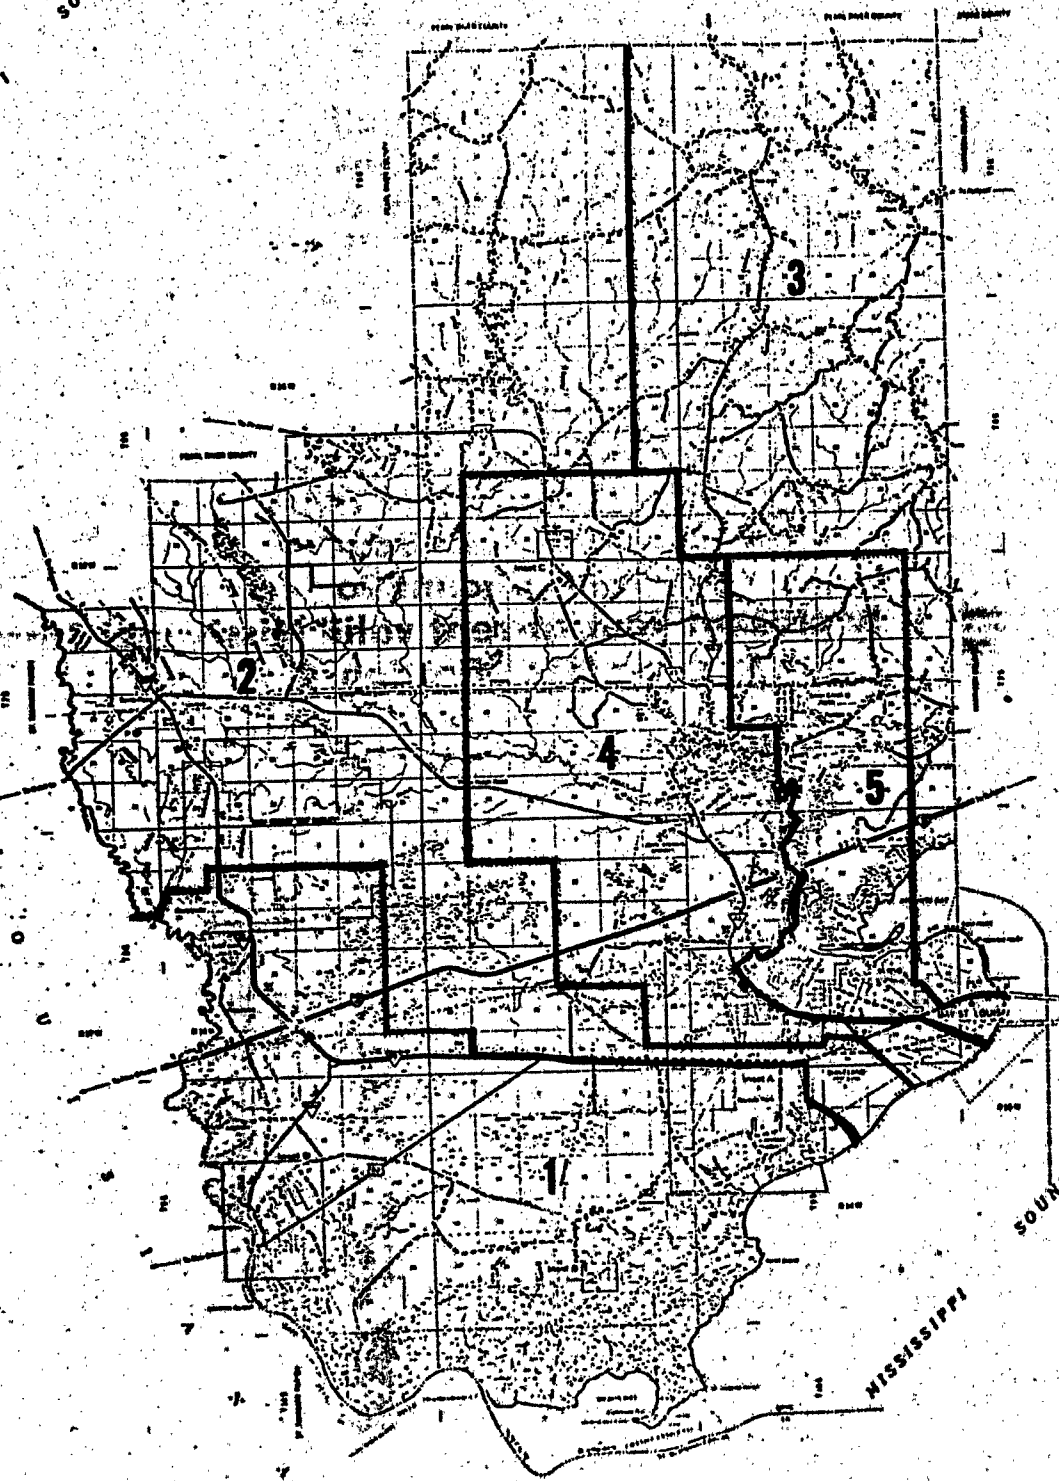

Investigator Alvin Ladner of the sheriff's department Wednesday said Bruce Gautier, a man in his 30's, was transported to Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picayune suffering apparent back and neck injuries.

"At about 8:09 p.m. we received a telephone call from the Picayune Police Department reporting a plane crash near Uncle Chesters Catfish House on Hwy. 43," he stated.

Ladner said when Deputies Glen Jackson and David Murtagh arrived at the scene they found a crashed homemade motorized hanglider.

The investigator reported the Picayune Fire Department and an ambulance service treated Gautier at the scene and transported him to the hospital.

"Witnesses said the glider lost power and crashed," Ladner added.

In other business at the Sunday meeting, the board approved joining the county with the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District. The district was established by the legislature several years ago as a wastewater authority for Hancock County.

Waveland also has joined the district and only Bay St. Louis has not joined.

The Bay Council is expected to discuss the matter at its next meeting Thursday night at 5:30 p.m.

Also at the meeting, the board approved establishing a new position at the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

Wilson Webre, executive director of the commission, requested the board approve the new position of Railroad Administrator Engineering Coordinator to help with the increasing amount of work at the commission.

Webre said three people are being considered for the job: an engineer, a draftsman and a general contractor.

The job will pay $17,000 a year and the person who is hired will be able to perform resident inspections along with other duties, Webre said.

In the past the commission has had to hire private engineering firms for resident inspections: action which has caused some criticism from the supervisors.

The supervisors also approved the commissions recommendation to advertise for a statement of capabilities from several engineering firms.

The commission hopes to employ an engineering firm as an engineer of record.

Also Monday, the board approved the 1982-83 budget for the commission. Hancock County Councilman Robert Harrison and the County Executive Association.

The Board of Directors is requesting $24,450 for the 1982-83 year. The Board is currently requesting $22,000 and the commission is requesting $22,000.

Another business item on the agenda was to approve the 1982-83 budget for the Hancock County Council.

Approved paying 10 percent of the salary for a County Administrator and two assistants in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, 59th, 60th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 64th, 65th, 66th, 67th, 68th, 69th, 70th, 71st, 72nd, 73rd, 74th, 75th, 76th, 77th, 78th, 79th, 80th, 81st, 82nd, 83rd, 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, 88th, 89th, 90th, 91st, 92nd, 93rd, 94th, 95th, 96th, 97th, 98th, 99th, 100th.

Approved to advertise for bids on building a 15 passenger bus for the Senior Citizen Center.

Accepted the real and personal property rolls from Edward Murtagh, county tax collector-assessor and agreed to meet in executive session for two weeks to review the rolls.

Adopted the 1982 motor vehicle assessments.

Set July 19 as the date for a public hearing on revenue sharing money. Jim Pfeiffer, Hancock County secretary, estimated some $400,000 will be available to the county through revenue sharing.

Approved a change order contract for Arigues Construction Company for expansion of the Hancock County Health Department on Dunbar Avenue.

Set July 14 as the next meeting date.

AN OPEN LETTER

To The Citizens Of Our Community:

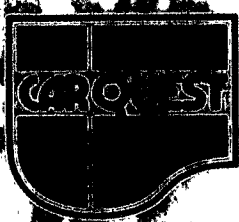

Unemployment--nationally, state-wide, and locally--is at the highest level it has been in years. Many of us, through no fault of our own, have had to face the economic hardship of layoff. We at Bay-Waveland Auto Supply understand this predicament and, in a very small way, wish to help.

Beginning immediately, all customers who are currently unemployed and have registered with the Mississippi State Employment Service will receive an additional ten percent (10%) discount on any and all purchases made at Bay-Waveland Auto Supply, regardless of the amount. To obtain this discount, simply present your current valid Mississippi State Employment Service Identification Card at the time of purchase.

We welcome this opportunity to serve you and hope that in this small way, we have helped.

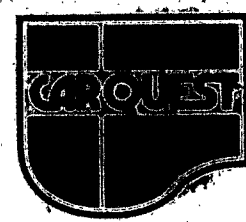

Sincerely
The Staff

P.S. We encourage our fellow businessmen and businesswomen in the community to adopt a similar program.

BAY RESIDENCE GUTTED—Inspecting the charred interior Tuesday of the Lazard Holland residence at 210 Third St. in Bay St. Louis which gutted by fire early Monday morning are, from left, Capt. Mike Willumits, Firefighter Ann Peneguy and Chief Andrew Lizana, all of the Bay Fire Department. After the inspection Lizana determined the cause of the fire as accidental. West Hancock Volunteer Fire Department arrived at the scene, the trailer was engulfed in flames.

He credited the department with controlling the fire and preventing the blaze from spreading to a nearby trailer.

The arson squad also responded to the blaze.

BAY BLAZE

A fire extensively damaged a Bay St. Louis residence early Monday morning and injured two people.

Chief Andrew Lizana of the Bay Fire Department Tuesday said one pumper and six firefighters responded to the blaze at the Lazard Holland residence at 210 Third St. which was reported by neighbors at about 3:20 a.m.

Holland's wife, Ellen, and her son, Nicky Slade, were at home at the time of the blaze, the chief reported.

He said the Holland's three daughters were away from home at friends houses at the time of the blaze which apparently started in a utility room.

"The boy awoke, smelled smoke, looked down the hall and saw the flames. He woke his mother who was sleeping and already partially overcome by smoke. The teenager managed to get his mother out of the house before the flames spread," Lizana explained.

The chief said Ellen Holland was taken to Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis for smoke inhalation treatment.

Lizana reported Firefighter Gary Maurice severely cut one finger in the fire battle. He was also treated at the hospital.

He also said the teenager suffered slight smoke inhalation which apparently did not require hospital treatment.

Firefighters fought the blaze about 20 minutes before it was brought under control, but the department remained at the scene to prevent the blaze from reigniting, Lizana reported.

The chief ruled the fire as accidental. Almost the entire home was evidently gutted by the flames.

HOLIDAY WOODS FIRES

Friloux reported some 10 woods fires.

all apparently ignited by fireworks occurred in Hancock during the July 4 weekend.

He said eight of those blazes were ignited in the East Hancock Volunteer Fire Department's jurisdiction and the other two occurred in the Diamondhead area.

William Field Jr., administrative chief of the volunteer department, Tuesday said just about all eight fires were ignited by individuals firing bottle rockets.

He estimated about 15 acres burned in the weekend fires.

Friloux, who is also Diamondhead Fire Department fire safety administrator, said the two fires in that community were ignited by people throwing fire crackers.

NEW CHEMICAL

Friloux revealed his department is adding a biodegradable chemical to pumper tanks which creates a mild foam and allows more efficient use of water in fighting woods fires.

"This chemical is a wetting agent which gives 500 gallons of water the woods fire fighting capability of 2,000 gallons," he explained.

The chemical is a household detergent named Shackley's Basic H, Friloux added.

LAST DAY TO CERTIFY

Whether they participate in the acreage reduction program or not, farmers have until July 15 to report their 1982 planted acres to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Program participants are required to report crops and acreages planted, the uses to be made of these crops, and cropland acres to be devoted to conservation uses.

"Non-participants need to certify their crops for future programs," Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director said.

In addition to history purposes, the acreage reports are also necessary for proven yields.

ASCS will randomly check farms to verify that acreage reports are accurate and have local photo credit available for farmers by identifying their fields. To be sure to plant acres, farmers can request measurement service.

For a fee, a farmer can request that his planted crops be measured prior to reporting acreages. The fee covers the cost of the farm visit and measuring of one area. Each additional area measured while the reporter is on the farm is an additional charge.

Crop certification is necessary before the farmer can receive the benefits of price support, deficiency payments and other program benefits.

Spring seeded crops may be certified at any time between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. "We hope that farmers will not wait until the July 15 deadline," the ASCS official said.

Little League All Star tourney to end Friday

Harrison-Hancock One will be facing Orange Grove at 6 p.m. Thursday at McDonald Field in Bay St. Louis during semi-final action of the Little League All Star Tournament.

The winner of the Central Harrison Two vs. Central Harrison One game—scheduled to be played Wednesday at 6:30 p.m.—will face Woolmarket Thursday at 8 p.m. in the other semi-final game scheduled that evening.

Finals of the tournament are scheduled for Friday at 8 p.m.

Both the Bay St. Louis and Waveland All Star Teams were eliminated this week in close games decided by a one run margin.

At a Monday night game played under lights at 8 p.m. the Waveland All Stars bowed to Harrison-Hancock One by a score of 9-8.

In that game Harrison-Hancock jumped out to an early start, grabbing five runs in the first inning and two in the second.

Waveland came back to score four runs in the third inning and four more in the fourth.

But in the fifth, Harrison-Hancock came back with two more unanswered runs to win the ball game and earn themselves a slot in the semi-finals.

Also Tuesday Bay St. Louis lost a squeaker to Woolmarket.

Bay Pitcher Will Seymour allowed only six hits while striking out 13 and walking two.

The Bay scored one in the fourth inning and one in the sixth while Woolmarket scored one in the bottom of the seventh to score two runs and win the game.

The Bay's runs were the result of some fine base run-ing work by David Seuzeneau who walked in the first and then stole his way around to third base.

A base hit double by Darrell Murphy drove Seuzeneau home in that inning.

In the sixth inning, Seuzeneau and Murphy got on with base hits and Ken Sladon walked to load the bases.

A ground ball by Kevin Edwards allowed one run to score and another to be called out at the plate. Edwards reached on a fielders choice but the inning ended before the Bay could score more.

In other tournament action this week, Central Harrison defeated Harrison-Hancock Two 19-13 during a game Tuesday at 6 p.m. and Orange Grove defeated Stone 6-7 in first round action of the tournament on Monday at 6 p.m.

Soccer Club planning first season

The Board of Directors of the Bay Area Soccer Club met Wednesday at the Lutheran Church of the Pines to map plans for the 1982-83 soccer season.

The board decided that the season would start on or about Nov. 1 with registration starting the last week of August at local schools.

The season will be approximately 10 games long and will be completed by the beginning of March with a Christmas recess. The regional tournaments will begin May 1.

BASC is looking for workers and people who want to serve as members to have a voice in the policies of this new organization.

Also, sponsors are wanted to assist with the financial support which this new club needs to make their first season a success.

The call is out for coaches for next season to contact one of the division commissioners who are: Harriet Bellone (girls), Brian Cronyn (U-8), Mike Davis (U-10), Stan Weidman (U-12) and Sam Allison (U-14 and above).

President Patrick Neeley is looking for a new logo for the club and asks artistic soccer enthusiasts to use their creative talents and submit ideas to any board member for consideration as the official BASC logo.

Third Annual Triathlon scheduled this month

The third annual Heart O'Dixie Triathlon will begin at 7 a.m. on July 31 in Lake Tiak-O'Khata near Louisville.

Competitors will swim one-half mile, bicycle 27½ miles, and run seven miles in the endurance event. The race will finish on the race track at the Neshoba County Fair south west of Philadelphia.

Sponsored by the Philadelphia Sertoma Club, the triathlon began in 1980 with 159 competitors. That number swelled to 303 in 1981.

Because of growing interest, the 1982 field has been limited to the first 500 to register.

Competitors from 15 states have competed in the first two events. Both were won by Vic Kelly from Birmingham, who finished the 35 miles last year in only a few seconds over two hours.

The race begins with a one-half mile swim in placid Lake Tiak-O'Khata. Competitors will then race on bicycles southward on Mississippi Hwy. 15 for 27½ miles from Louisville to Philadelphia.

The third and final leg of the race is on foot through the red clay hills along Hwy. 21.

The silver Sertoma Cup will be presented to the first finisher, and silver-plated serving trays and goblets will be awarded to the other top male and female finishers.

Because of the expected heat and humidity, special precautions are being taken along the route. Aid stations will provide fluid replacement and first aid, and medical personnel will be on hand.

This year's race will be directed by the Mississippi Track Club, and has received, for the first time, the endorsement of the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

For entry information write the Heart O'Dixie Triathlon, P.O. Box 735, Philadelphia, Ms. 39350.

GCRL completes bass program

A total of more than 703,000 striped bass were stocked in Mississippi coastal waters this year by staff members at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory. That figure includes both fingerlings reared from fry in GCRL facilities and fish obtained from other hatcheries.

Personnel of the Lab striped bass project reared over 190,000 fingerlings from April through June, according to project leader Larry Nicholson. Nicholson said that 21.39 percent of the original number of striped bass fry survived to be stocked.

One group of stripers, consisting of 98,000 fingerlings, was released in May in the Biloxi River system. The survival rate for those fish was 19.78 percent.

There were 92,700 fingerlings in a second group of fish, that were stocked in June. Twenty-three percent of that group survived and were released in the Bay of St. Louis system.

An estimated 513,000 fingerlings from U.S. Fish and Wildlife hatcheries in Mississippi, Louisiana, and Alabama were stocked in local waters.

WTBS to televise Ole Miss - Tulane game

WTBS Sports has added the Saturday, Nov. 6 meeting between Tulane University and the University of Mississippi to its cable telecast slate of NCAA football games.

The game originally was scheduled for 41,000-seat Hemingway Stadium in Oxford, but was moved to the 64,000-seat Mississippi Memorial Stadium in Jackson.

Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Backwash

By Lisa C. McIntosh

Bay-Waveland Yacht Club skippers made a brilliant showing at the Gulf Coast Association Race Week Regatta, which was held at Gulfport Yacht Club over the fourth of July weekend.

In the three-race GYA-Capdevielle Flying Scot series, the BWYC team was Corky Hadden, Bobby Egan, and Marc Egan.

Each skippered one race, and each won his race, giving BWYC a decisive series victory.

Crewing for the BWYC skippers in that series were Hadden, Karen Egan, and Molly Douglass.

The Open Scots class series, a three-race competition of individual Flying Scot skippers, was won by Larry Taggart of Southern Yacht Club. Liz Merrifield and Charlotte Gordon of BWYC crewed for Taggart.

Second place in the Open Scots went to Peter Merrifield of BWYC, with Michael White and Kalyan Wainwright crewing.

Henry G. Chapman of BWYC placed third, with crew Elizabeth Balch, Chris Merrifield, and Susan Worrell.

The Sunfish class series was won by Todd Edwards of Gulfport Yacht Club.

In second place was Bishop School of Bayview. Sunfish races were 2-2-1, 2-2-1, and 2-2-1.

With duty of BWYC, the third place honors (finishing 2-2-1 in the three races) this series marked Dury's first competition in Sunfish class boats.

Last weekend, June 26-27, Peter Merrifield travelled to Mobile to compete in Buccaneer Yacht Club's Joe Arns Junior Regatta. Merrifield came home with second place honors. His crew was Adam Sloan of BWYC and Tina Foster of Mobile.

A battery of Sunfish club races were sailed on Saturday, July 3, under the direction of Assistant Race Chairman Judy McKinney.

In the first race, Mark Evans took first place honors, with Ricki Bass second.

The second race was won by Robert Andry and Charles Evans, with second place going to Evie Gordon.

Robert Andry Jr. won the third race, beating out Robert Andry Sr., who was second, Ricki Bass at third, and Evie Gordon at fourth.

In the fourth race Evie Gordon hit her stride and took first place honors, beating Mark Evans. Second, Ricki Bass, third, Charles Evans, fourth, and Bill Brinkley fifth.

Evie Gordon also won the fifth race, and Kay Wainwright took second place. Mark Evans was third, Robert Andry fourth, and Chickie Marble fifth.

Kay Ward won the sixth race, triumphing over Page Murphy in second place and Richard Reeves in third place.

In the seventh race, Robert Andry was first, and Richard Reeves was second.

The eighth race, another two-boater, was won by Chickie Marble, followed by Page Murphy.

Evie Gordon returned to the fray for the ninth and final race and won it. Kerry Merrigan was second, Chickie Marble was third, and Nichole Montagnet was fourth.

Monday, July 5 was the occasion for the Annual Anthony Benvenuti Fishing Rodeo, an event for the youngest BWYC members.

The competition was held on the front pier, and prizes were presented by Frank C. Allen Jr., Rodeo Chairman.

Kerry Merrigan won the biggest trophy for the biggest fish.

Other award winners included Kay Kennedy, Richard Reeves, Charles Evans, and Walter Jahn.

BWYC sailors will be moving into national competition next weekend.

Judy McKinney will sail in the Adams Cup Semi-Finals in Charleston, South Carolina. The Adams Cup is awarded annually to the women's national champion. McKinney, a previous Adams winner, will sail the semi-finals in Soling class boats, assisted by crew Liz Merrifield and Mary Lader.

Matt Stieffel will go to the Bemis Cup Semi-Finals at Southern Yacht Club in New Orleans. The Bemis Cup, a national competition, is restricted to junior skippers sailing in two-man boats.

Stieffel will take Michael White as his crew, with Harry Chapman as his alternate. The club wishes them both a lot of luck to go with their obvious expertise.

Business journal publishes fishery management article

J.Y. Christmas, assistant director emeritus of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, was co-author of an article, entitled "A Marine Fishery Management Model," that was published in the Laboratory in its Technical Report series.

Insights is published semi-annually by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Southern Mississippi (USM).

The second author of the article was Dr. David J. Eizold, a professor of management at USM. Christmas is the senior fishery biologist of the GCRL staff and an adjunct professor at USM.

Two Gulf of Mexico regional fishery management plans, for the shrimp and menhaden fisheries, were produced in 1977 by two task force groups made up of representatives of state and federal agencies, private industry, and universities.

Christmas and Eizold served as editors of the two resulting plans which were published by the Laboratory in its Technical Report series.

The article presents some of the thinking that must go into the development of a model for managing northern Gulf of Mexico and Mississippi fisheries, including models for management decisions, structure, and organization.

The article notes that the plans developed for the menhaden and shrimp fisheries in the Gulf have been successfully implemented, verifying the acceptability of such models. Those plans are strategic in nature, not tactical (or operating) plans.

Oil journal coverage to include Mississippi

Despite the downturn in drilling activity and oil prices, a survey of nearly 40 oil and gas company executives in the Gulf Coast region indicates a mood of industry optimism in the months ahead.

The study was conducted by Gulf Coast Oil Reporter, which will detail its findings in an eight-story series in its July issue.

The magazine, formerly known as the Oil Field Monthly Journal, was renamed after its purchase last month by Hart Publications of Denver, Colo.

"The common impression is that the oil industry has fallen on hard times," said Ben Davis, managing editor of the new magazine. "But underneath that, in the Gulf area there's a real bedrock of optimism about the future."

The factors influencing the belief that recovery is on the way:

—Lease cost are lower because fewer companies are bidding for leases.

—Drilling costs are down by as much as 30 percent and in some areas footage rates are available instead of just day rates.

—Because it's cheaper to drill, some operators find profits are still adequate despite decreases in oil prices and sales.

—Well permits have increased and some refineries have upped production, indicating that the "oil glut" is over.

—Now that Congress has adopted the 1983 budget, companies are better able to judge how much loan money the financial markets may be able to provide.

"There are companies that haven't drilled a well all year because credit is tight and drilling fund money is down," said Davis, acknowledging that small independents are "hurting."

But for companies that are short on cash, there are strong reasons for hope in the near future. Oil prices appear to be strengthening.

In addition to providing an outlook of companies' drilling plans for the balance of the year, the magazine reviewed industry statistics for the region and came up with a surprising discovery. For the first five months of 1982 compared to a year ago, both footage drilled and well completions are up — and 1981 is considered the banner year for the industry.

Replying on the rig count as the barometer of the health of the industry can be misleading," the editor pointed out. "When you look at all the factors, things don't appear so bad."

Davis, formerly associate editor with Western Oil Reporter magazine in Denver, said interviews with industry figures will highlight the new magazine's coverage.

In the past, the Journal concentrated on Louisiana, but Gulf Coast Oil Reporter will cover both on shore and offshore activities from Texas to western Florida.

The monthly magazine will report on news and technical developments in exploration, production, drilling and well servicing, pipelining and transportation, oil and gas processing, company affairs, activities and regulatory affairs.

Each issue will feature a particular area in the region and a technical subject.

"We're committed to making Gulf Coast Oil Reporter the most useful source of information and analysis for the region's oil and gas industry," said Robert Hart, group publisher.

The magazine's sales and editorial offices will remain in Lafayette and Journal president Tim Brooks will continue as publisher. Circulation, which had been at 13,000 copies per month, will be increased to 20,000. The first copy of Gulf Coast Oil Reporter will be mailed on July 10, with all sales by subscription.

AG Affairs

Independence in retrospect

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm
Bureau Federation

There's a meaning for Independence Day beyond exploding firecrackers, family reunions, and flies that light on sandwiches, salads, and cookies spread outside during social gathering.

That deep significance for many Americans may be largely forgotten now that over two centuries have slipped by since 56 men adopted a Declaration of Independence from England on July 4, 1776. If so, read on.

Even then it was scarcely noticed in the excitement of the times that followed as early American farmers made a transition to minutemen, willing and fully capable of laying aside their plowshares upon a moment's notice to do battle with the British forces bent on quelling this American colony's insistence on independence at all cost.

You see, these 56 uncommon men, united in a resolve to declare their "reliance on the protection of Divine Providence," pledged to reach their lives' ends for their country, and their sacred honor.

This dangerous commitment was a total one, and made only after they had made 86 changes in Thomas Jefferson's first draft in their Declaration of Independence, and then adopted it.

It was a bold move. The 1,337 words in the document were chosen carefully. And each of the signers knew the full meaning of the words. They also knew the possible consequences of their action.

Now, 206 years later, forgetful Americans tend to look back at the consequences of those resolute actions, the price those 56 men paid for the freedom that Americans too often take for granted.

This column is too brief to deal with all of the dire consequences among the signers. But here are a few. Five of these 56 signers were captured by the British and put to torture before they died. Twelve had their homes ransacked and burned. Two of them lost sons in the war that followed.

The price of a pledge of life, fortune, and honor for Carter Braxton, a farmer and trader, was to see his fleet of ships swept from the sea. He died in poverty.

Thomas McKean lost all that he owned, and he and his family became fugitives. General Cornwallis ordered Thomas Mifflin's home in Lancaster burned. The wife of Francis Lewis was imprisoned.

ed and died within a few months.

John Hart was driven from his wife's side as she lay on her deathbed. He was forced to live in forests and caves for more than a year, and ultimately was to find that his wife had died during his absence. He never saw his 13 children again, and he died with a broken heart.

These 56 men were not rabble rousers, but men of vision and purpose. Among them were 24 lawyers and jurists. Eleven were merchants and nine were farmers. Virtually all of them were men of considerable means. When they pledged their fortunes, they truly had fortunes to pledge. They were all well educated.

But they did not have too much to risk it all when weighed in the balance with liberty from governmental oppression at the hands of the British. They were willing to sacrifice it all for their chance at liberty. It was only a chance. No guarantee.

Many today believe it was no accident that adequate men of this caliber were gathered in this land at that crucial moment of history. Even then Benjamin Franklin testified of the hand of God in the establishment of this new government.

In that first year of Independence Thomas Paine wrote: "His dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to set a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed, if so celestial an article as freedom should not be so highly rated."

WRONGLY

USED 3-WHEELERS

Rightly used, the popular "three-wheelers" all terrain vehicle is the best thing to come along since the pontoon-footed, four-humped camel. Wrongly used, it's worse than the proverbial bull in the china shop.

But rightfully or wrongfully used, these modern rural area playtoy-workhorses are causing no small degree of consternation in Mississippi to landowners whose privacy is being invaded, and to parents and safety conscious citizens who already are being jolted by a rash of life-taking accidents among under-age operators.

Basically the machine is a motorized tricycle with big squishy and knobby tires. It gets farmers through wet, mirey places on the back forty, transports duck and deer hunters within "white-of-the-eye" range of their quarry, and is quite a big brother in packing out the biggest bucks that have been killed from a remote, swampy deer stand.

Kids love them. Riding on a cushioned seat surrounded by three big fat spinning tires that go wherever they say go by mere attention to a cranking, revving and steering process, it's high fun barreling along through the yard (which suddenly becomes too small) or the pasture (which becomes monotonous) or the safe riding trails (which all too often lack a freedom feeling).

Only last week this writer witnessed two three-wheelers in operation. One was parked on the shoulder of a well traveled highway in the state. A boy appearing to be ten or eleven years of age approached it as I passed and was seen pulling onto the road as he diminished in size through my rear view mirror.

The other incident involved three sub-teen girls — one driver and two passengers taking a joy ride on a paved highway — making perhaps their first courtship with no less a partner than the fickleness of fate himself.

This column was underscored last week by these two typical sightings of three-wheeler mis-use.

It began, however, several weeks earlier as I visited a southwest Mississippi county and penetrated backroads to find new "no trespassing" signs prominently displayed along access properties leading to sand and gravel bars along the Homochitto River and McCall's Creek.

These two streams are popular summer attractions for local and visiting people who find the broad stretches of white river sand alongside clear, clean and swift running water especially tempting for swimming, wading, or picnicking — and the gravel deposits a special attraction for rock hounds.

Puzzled by an apparently strict posting and denial of access to these both private and public sites, I stopped time and again to raise questions.

A grocery store clerk replied, "It's the three wheelers. They just about took the streams over. It was just too much!"

A housewife working out in her yard within several stone throws of one of the streams said the owners of the land along the streams were having a lot of trouble with hunters shooting their cattle.

It appears that Mississippi rapidly has been faced with a problem of public safety and property rights that will press for regulation at some level for the good of all.

INTENTION TO CREATE
EAST HANCOCK
FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT OF
HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI.

The Board of Supervisors took up for consideration the matter of the incorporation of a fire protection district in Hancock County, Mississippi, with the corporate name "East Hancock Fire Protection District of Hancock County, Mississippi" as authorized by Chapter 5, Section 1141, et seq., Code of 1972.

After a general discussion of the subject, Supervisor Travivars offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

A RESOLUTION FINDING: AND DETERMINING THAT THE PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY REQUIRE THE CREATION OF "EAST HANCOCK FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI" AS A FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT WITHIN SAID COUNTY.

OTHER RELATED PURPOSES. WHEREAS, on the 19th day of April, 1962, this Board did adopt a certain Resolution declaring its intent to incorporate the Fire Protection District under the provisions of Sec. 17-101, with the corporate name "East Hancock Fire Protection District of Hancock County, Mississippi" certain contiguous territory in Hancock County, Mississippi, and for the purpose of fixing a time and place for the hearing upon the question and directing publication of notice of such public hearing, setting a time for said hearing at 10:00 o'clock A.M. on April 23rd, 1962, in the Courtroom in the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi; and WHEREAS, said notice was published by the Clerk of this Board in the Sea Breeze, a newspaper published in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, on April 22 and May 6, 1962, as evidenced by Proof of Publication on file with and now before this Board; and determines that all of the requirements of law pursuant to the adoption of said Resolution and the notice of public hearing as provided therein have been fully complied with; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors duly met on May 17, 1962, at 10:00 a.m. in the Courtroom in Bay Mills, Michigan, for the purpose of considering said Resolution and Vote; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors determines that no proper objection has been filed with this Board of Supervisors to the creation of the proposed "East Hancock Fire Protection District of Hancock County, Michigan," and that the Board of Supervisors hereby approves the creation of said district; and

WHEREAS, all persons appearing before the Board at said hearing were

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this Board hereby declare its intention to create, at a meeting on August 3, 1981, at the City of New Orleans, Louisiana, a new Precinct No. 18-511 out of the provisions of the Louisiana Constitution, to be known as the First Precinct of Hancock County, Mississippi; that certain contiguous territory in Hancock County, Mississippi, commencing the point where the south line of Cardinal Street intersects the East line of Crane Street in Shoreline Park Subdivision, Hancock County, Mississippi, and extending easterly to the point where the south line of Volga Street intersects the east line of Dame Street in said subdivision; thence easterly along the south line of the corporate limits of the southwest corner of the corporate limits

Jordan River intersects the southern shore of Bayou LaCrosse; thence easterly along the southern shore of Bayou LaCrosse to the mouth thereof; Bayou LaCrosse to the mouth of the South Shore of Bayou Croc; intersects the East shore of Pilot Bayou; thence along the meanderings of the East shore of Pilot Bayou to the point where the East shore of Pilot Bayou intersects the East shore of Four-Mile Bayou; thence southward along the meanderings of the East shore of Four-Mile Bayou to the point where the East shore of Four-Mile Bayou intersects the western continuation of the South line of Trout Street; thence East along the South line of Trout Street to the intersection of the South line of Trout Street, where the South line of Trout Street intersects the East line of Crane Street; thence South along the East line of Crane Street to the point of beginning of the tract of land herein described; being a part of the 14th section of the 14th Ward, St. Charles County, Mississippi.

IT BE FURTHER RESOLVED THAT

ounty, Mississippi," as a fire protection district under the provisions of Section 197-27, and that the Board of Supervisors shall not be authorized to create a district unless less than 20 percent or one hundred fifty (150) of the qualified electors of such proposed district shall file written petition with the Board of Supervisors on or before the date of the meeting following the creation of such district, in which event such district shall not be created until the question of the creation of such district shall be submitted to a referendum ordered by the Board of Supervisors for the purpose of determining whether or not a majority of the qualified electors of such district and voting in such election shall be in favor of the creation of such district. Such action shall be taken in the manner provided in Section 194-157, Mississippi Code of 1972. If three-fifths (3-5) of those voting in said election shall be in favor of the creation of said district, the Board of Supervisors shall adopt a Resolution creating such district. In the event three-fifths (3-5) of

Certain ADC recipients to file monthly reports

Starting in August, a number of Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) recipients will make monthly reports on their income and other circumstances to the county welfare department. The information in the monthly report will determine if the family continues to be eligible for assistance and how much they should receive. The new federally mandated procedure is called monthly reporting.

The ADC program is administered by the State Department of Public Welfare. The program helps children, under 18 years of age, who have lost the care and support of one or both parents. Eligibles receive a monthly check and/or Medicaid benefits.

During July, the county welfare departments will meet with ADC recipients identified as reporting cases to explain the monthly reporting procedure. County welfare departments will hold individual and/or group meetings with the recipients. Monthly reporting requires certain ADC recipients to report changes in income, housing costs, property, other income and costs of care for children and other persons.

These categories of ADC recipients will report on a periodic basis: people who are working or have been working in the recent past; people who receive Social Security or Veterans Administration checks; and payees for teenagers 16-18 years of age will report only when they receive the form. The payee for teenagers will receive a form on the monthly basis when school starts in September and again in November.

ADC recipients identified as reporting cases will receive a reporting form on the first of the month. The form is to be completed and returned to the welfare department by the fifth of the month.

If the reporting form is not received by the fifth of the month, case workers will mail after the form is received. The form will be mailed to the recipient's home and should be returned to the welfare department by the fifth of the month. The form will be mailed to the recipient's home and should be returned to the welfare department by the fifth of the month.

Previously, ADC eligibility and benefits were based on an estimate of the family's income, which was projected for the next six months.

Hancock Fleet Blessing held Sunday

BISHOP HOWZE BLESSES FLEET—Bishop Larson Howze, Diocese of Biloxi, blesses the Hancock County Fleet on July 4 at Bayou Cadet. Bishop Howze and judges of the event co-sponsored by the Fishermen's Association and the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce were on the Omeco III. Judges were Dr. Tom Murphree, E. Michael Necaise, Chuck Breath, Jack Foret, and George Plat.

WELCOMES CHAMBER—James Ingersoll, left, captain of the Karen Gale, welcomes L.J. Breaux, president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, on his shrimp boat for the annual blessing of the fleet held last Sunday. Breaux and officers and directors of the chamber viewed the blessing from Ingersoll's boat. The Azalea, owned by Vincent M. Impastato, was voted best overall shrimp boat in the fleet. In the 35-foot under category, Kelly Marie, owned by Wade Koenig, was selected first; Giddy Upgo, second; and Ronita Bo, third.

Doctors fail to recognize drug-induced nutrition needs

The failure to recognize and treat altered nutritional needs brought on by drug therapy is one of the greatest failures of medical practice in the United States today, according to a University of Mississippi study on "Drug-Induced Nutritional Deficiencies."

Physicians elsewhere in the world prescribe dietary or vitamin regimes along with drug therapy, but the concept is a forgotten one in the United States where myths abound that Americans are well nourished, said Dr. John C. Matthews, a biochemist in the Ole Miss School of Pharmacy who has examined the relationship between medicine and malnutrition.

"It's a myth that Americans are the most well-nourished people in the world," Dr. Matthews said. "Our foods are highly processed. We eat bleached flour and canned vegetables. We overcook our food. Most of the time we don't eat well-balanced meals. If anything, we are marginally nourished."

A large number of drugs are known to cause nutritional deficiencies, Dr. Matthews said. Those deficiencies are not likely to cause problems when drugs are taken for short periods, but there is real danger when they're taken chronically, he explained.

For example, he said, women taking oral contraceptives and senior citizens are two groups of long-term drug users who should be especially careful to supplement their diets.

Senior citizens are already at a nutritional disadvantage because of decreased efficiency in normal body functions, Dr. Matthews observed. Elderly people tend to take more medications to aid the malfunctions, but often the drugs interfere with the body's absorption and use of essential nutrients, making the cure potentially more harmful than the condition, he said.

Healthy young women who take oral contraceptives are probably the most noteworthy examples of those with drug-induced nutritional deficiencies, Dr. Matthews said.

He warned women taking contraceptives that, over a period of time, their body stores of some vitamins and minerals could become depleted while others are retained more efficiently.

Also, he said, multivitamin and mineral supplements could result in dangerously high levels of the latter.

The most significant problems arise when these women become pregnant, he noted; because the pregnancy is begun in a vitamin deficient state, the development of the fetus may be impaired.

Anyone on chronic drug therapy has the potential for developing nutrient deficiencies, but symptoms often go unnoticed, Dr. Matthews said.

"Our concepts of nutrient deficiencies have been molded by descriptions of scurvy, beriberi, night blindness and other vitamin deficient diseases," he said.

"For this reason we often conjure up images of severely emaciated individuals when vitamin deficiencies are discussed. I want to stress, however, that vitamin deficiencies can be harmful without ever approaching the levels of severity seen in the classic medical sense. In general, it is not possible for the untrained observer to detect a nutrient deficient individual just by looking at him."

Many drugs—not just birth control pills—deplete the body's need for some essential nutrients while increasing the need for others, he pointed out.

Because the situation could cause oversupplementation with possible toxic effects, standard multivitamin and mineral supplements are not recommended.

Ideally, people on long-term drug therapy should eat three well-balanced meals a day, paying particular attention to those foods that provide the nutritional needs the therapy demands.

Depending on the medication, some people may need to take specific vitamins, but should first consult either a physician or pharmacist, Dr. Matthews recommended.

GIRLS STATE SENATOR—Donna Moran, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moran of Bay St. Louis and a Bay High senior, was elected senator at the recent 1982 Girls State on the Hinds Junior College Campus in Jackson. Faulkner enthusiasts to gather from 10 countries

The writers of William Faulkner will gather for an international conference at the University of Mississippi in Oxford, Miss., from July 10-14, 1982.

The conference is sponsored by the University's Center for the Study of Southern Culture and the Department of English. Since the first meeting in 1974, several hundred Faulkner enthusiasts have traveled each year to Oxford, Miss., to examine the life and work of the Nobel Prize-winning author.

"Faulkner's work transcends national boundaries," said Dr. Ann Abadie, conference coordinator and associate director of the Center for the Study of Southern Culture. "He is one of the most widely translated authors in the world, and his work is being read by more people than ever before."

The conference will draw representatives from Algeria, Germany, Japan, Italy, India, England, the Soviet Union, Chile, France and the United States.

King record collection donated to Ole Miss

Blues Star B.B. King's entire personal record collection, valued at nearly $170,000, has been delivered to the John Davis Williams Library at The University of Mississippi.

King donated the records this morning to the Center for the Study of Southern Culture in support of a three-year Challenge Grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The center's grant is designed to raise $1.2 million to strengthen the Southern Studies resources of the Williams Library.

The B.B. King collection of some 7,000 records includes a variety of old 78 rpm phonograph records, long playing albums and 45 rpm recordings.

More than half of the records are blues, and the collection contains some hard to obtain items and recordings by many of the world's top blues performers.

"We are very pleased to have received this fine research collection," said Grey Cole, director of libraries at the University.

"The collection will have two benefits, first, as a study of the music which influenced B.B. King, and second as a major collection of blues and folk music. His taste in music was impeccable."

Music in the collection represents all of the great blues artists, among them Muddy Waters, Howling Wolf, "Blind Lemon" Jefferson, Bobby Bland and Furry Lewis. The blues section is noted for being particularly strong in the post-World War II era. For example, more than half of the records are now out of print, and there are several rare overseas pressings by important blues performers.

Diamondhead Association to meet Aug. 6

At a June 30 meeting of the Board of Directors of the Diamondhead Association, Ms. Lee Peterson and Colonel Chris Arno reported neighborhood watch signs will be installed this week.

Engraving electric pens are available to all members of the Community Association for a three-day period to mark their Social Security numbers on all home possessions.

Stickers will be on each house to warn any potential criminal that anything in a Diamondhead home can be identified.

At a July 4 Street Jamboree in front of the Country Club, the Association sponsored a swim meet and an Old Fashioned bathing suit contest.

Ricky Thorpe manned a booth where a census of Diamondhead residents was taken. Those who did not sign July 4 will be contacted by telephone.

The next general meeting of the Diamondhead Association will be August 6. A fried chicken dinner will be served at 6 p.m. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. followed by a musical social program at 8 p.m.

Under the terms of the Challenge Grant, King's collection will count as part of the $900,000 in matching funds which the University must raise to receive the full $300,000 NEH grant.

This year, the University raised $411,686.15, surpassing its goal of $250,000, and last year $75,000 was raised for the project. The University's goal for June 1983 is $350,000, to help meet the $900,000 total needed by June 1984.

WINNING COSTUME—Modeling a costume representing a blooming Dogwood tree in Joyce Phillips, recently elected president of the Cecil R. Rudock Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 5331 Ladies Auxiliary Unit in Pass Christian. She was recently selected State Flower Child at a statewide convention in Tupelo in which 14 VFW districts competed in raising funds for Mississippi ways and means projects. District One, which includes posts in coastal Mississippi, raised the most money. District One President Patricia Neeley of Pass Christian chose the Dogwood costume for Phillips to wear in statewide competition for the best outfit. The winning costume includes a brown and silver lame dress which represents a tree trunk, the blooms consist of white satin edged in pink trimmed in sequins with centers sprinkled with silver dust and leaves are formed with green satin trimmed in sequins. DRUG QUIZ

QUESTION - What is the single most serious medical problem of today's youth in the United States?

- Alcoholism
- Marijuana Usage
- Veneral Disease
- Malnutrition

ANSWER - Each of these is a very serious medical problem in our nation, but according to Dr. Ingrid Lantner, a pediatrician in Cleveland, Ohio, marijuana usage is the most serious because symptoms of chronic cannabis intoxication are insidious. Children often begin using marijuana between the ages of 11 and 13, she said, and about 10% of junior-high school students use it on a regular basis.

Some of the symptoms include loss of motivation, decreased school performance, dropping out of extracurricular activities, and personality changes. Sudden swings of mood, irritability, hostility and paranoia are common symptoms of chronic marijuana use, as are feelings of loneliness, isolation, and depression with suicidal tendencies.

Correct answer - b.

QUESTION - Which occupational group in the United States has the highest percentage of problems with alcoholism and drug abuse?

- Professional athletes
- Law enforcement officers
- Teachers
- Doctors

ANSWER - Just as illegal drugs cause problems, legal medicines, including occupational hazards in alcoholism and drug abuse, the security of physicians, nurses and pharmacists, says Dr. Lantner.
